Just a quick note to thank you for approving my attendance at EclipseCon. As expected, the sessions were informative, the BOF's insightful, the networking invaluable and the buzz in the Eclipse Community electric and contagious.

I wanted to bring your attention to a new desktop platform released by Sony that includes a 3.2 GHz processor, 512KB L2 cache and 256MB XDR and a 60GB disk. It has Bluetooth, an integrated blu-ray disk and has lots of USB 2.0 ports for peripherals all at a < $400 price point.
