projects.eclipse.org

The screenshot shows the Eclipse website's project page for Buildship. At the top, the Eclipse logo is on the left, and a search bar and a 'DOWNLOAD' button are on the right. Below the navigation bar, the breadcrumb trail reads 'HOME / PROJECTS / TOOLS PROJECT / BUILDSHIP: ECLIPSE PLUG-INS FOR GRADLE'. The main heading is 'Buildship: Eclipse Plug-ins for Gradle'. A sub-navigation bar includes 'Overview' (highlighted), 'Downloads', 'What's involved', 'Developer Resources', 'Governance', 'Contact Us', and 'RSS'. The main content area describes Buildship as a collection of Eclipse plug-ins for building software with Gradle, aiming for deep IDE integration. It lists the license as 'Eclipse Public License 1.0' and the latest release date as 'From 19 June 24th, 2015'. On the right, there are sections for 'COMMITTER TOOLS' and 'PROJECT LINKS' with a list of links: Website, Documentation, Build docs, Dev docs, User docs, and Stories.

The screenshot shows the Eclipse Marketplace interface for the 'Buildship Gradle Integration' project. The page title is 'Buildship Gradle Integration' with a sub-label 'Eclipse Project'. The main navigation bar includes 'View', 'Clear Outdated Flags', and 'Edit'. Below this, there's a sidebar with the Gradle logo, a star rating of 2, and an 'Install' button. The main content area has tabs for 'Details', 'Screenshots', 'Metrics', 'Errors', and 'External Install Button'. The 'Details' tab is active, showing a description: 'Eclipse plug-ins that provide support for building software using Gradle. This solution is provided by the Eclipse Foundation.' Below this, there are links for 'Get Help - Report a Bug - More Information'. A section titled 'Project Import' explains that users can import an existing Gradle project through the Eclipse Import Wizard, detailing the steps and settings involved. At the bottom, there's a note: 'Directories that already contain a settings folder are left unimported even if the Gradle plugin is installed.'
